| COOPERATIVE STATE RESEARCH SERVICE | 3 |
| FOREST SERVICE | 159 |
| OFFICE OF THE GENERAL COUNSEL | 1 |
| OFFICE OF PERSONNEL | 2 |
| TOTAL | 220 |

Of this total 50 are national committees while 170 are local or regional groups associated with field activities. The total also includes 97 statutory committees expressly provided for by law while 123 have been established by administrative determination that such committees are in the public interest in connection with the performance of duties imposed by law.

The Department's Administrative Regulations (1 AR 466b) provide for preparation of an annual listing of advisory committees as shown in this report. Excluded are operating committees which perform administrative functions such as the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committees (community, county, and State committees) and the county and State committees of the Farmers Home Administration.

5. Discussion

6. Conclusion

1. The first objective of this study was to determine the effect of the independent variable on the dependent variable. This was achieved by conducting a series of experiments under controlled conditions.
2. The second objective was to identify the factors that influence the relationship between the independent and dependent variables. This was done by varying the independent variable and observing the resulting changes in the dependent variable.
3. The third objective was to compare the results of this study with those of previous research in the field. This was done by reviewing the literature and identifying any discrepancies or similarities.
4. The fourth objective was to draw conclusions from the results of the study and to make recommendations for future research. This was done by summarizing the findings and discussing their implications.
5. The fifth objective was to ensure the reliability and validity of the study. This was done by using appropriate statistical methods and ensuring that the data was collected and analyzed correctly.
6. The sixth objective was to communicate the results of the study to the relevant stakeholders. This was done by writing a report and presenting the findings at a conference.

The first of these is the fact that the government has been unable to raise the necessary funds to meet its obligations.
 This is due to a number of factors, including the fact that the government has been unable to collect the necessary taxes, and the fact that the government has been unable to borrow the necessary funds from the international market.
 The second factor is the fact that the government has been unable to implement the necessary reforms to the economy. This has led to a number of problems, including inflation, unemployment, and a general decline in the standard of living. The third factor is the fact that the government has been unable to maintain a stable political environment. This has led to a number of problems, including corruption, and a general lack of confidence in the government.
 The fourth factor is the fact that the government has been unable to maintain a stable military. This has led to a number of problems, including a general lack of confidence in the military, and a general decline in the standard of living. The fifth factor is the fact that the government has been unable to maintain a stable social
 problems, including a general lack of confidence in the government, and a general decline in the standard of living. The sixth factor is the fact that the government has been unable to maintain a stable economic
 decline in the standard of living. The seventh factor is the fact that the government has
 general lack of confidence in the government.
 The eighth factor is the fact that the government has been unable to maintain a stable military. This has led to a number
 decline in the standard of living. The ninth factor is the fact that the government has
 decline in the standard of living. The tenth factor is the fact that the government has
 decline in the standard of living.

1. The first step is to identify the problem or question that needs to be answered. This involves understanding the context and the specific requirements of the task.

2. Phylogenetic relationships—The phylogenetic relationships among the 10 species were determined using the parsimony method. The analysis was performed using the program PAUP 4.0 (Swofford, 1999). The parsimony method was chosen because of the lack of a priori knowledge of the evolutionary relationships among the species. The analysis was performed using the following settings: heuristic search, 1000 random addition sequences, 1000000 iterations, and 1000000 iterations of tree-shrinking. The results were visualized using the program TreeView 1.6.6 (Rambaut, 1996). The bootstrap values were calculated using 1000000 iterations.

Of this total 47 are national committees while 174 are local or regional groups associated with field activities. The total also includes 95 statutory committees expressly provided for by law while 126 have been established by administrative determination that such committees are in the public interest in connection with the performance of duties imposed by law.

The Department's Administrative Regulations (1 AR 466b) provide for preparation of an annual listing of advisory committees as shown in this report. Excluded are operating committees which perform administrative functions such as the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committees (community, county, and State committees) and the county and State committees of the Farmers Home Administration.
